Lisa Roper Chanticleer Garden Gardener Grove United Methodist Church 490 West Boot Road, West Chester, PA March 12th, 7:00 pm

Lisa Roper, our March speaker, has been the Ruin and Gravel Garden Horticulturist at Chanticleer for 23 years. She will speak about the garden’s artistry that combines design, sculpture, texture, and form; programs offered by Chanticleer; and the education of the gardeners.

Ms. Roper has a BFA from the Cooper Union in NYC where she focused on photography, printmaking and painting. Initially she began her career as a photographer, but later switched to horticulture, studying and working at Longwood Gardens in their Professional Gardener Training Program. In 1990 Lisa was hired at Chanticleer, before the garden was open to the public. She is one of 7 full time horticulturists and is responsible for the design and maintenance of the Ruin and Gravel Gardens. Before designing the Ruin Garden, she spent eleven years in the Asian Woods Garden. In addition to her horticultural responsibility she also serves as the staff photographer.

Adolph Rosengarten, Sr. and his wife Christine built their country retreat on land along the Main Line in Wayne early in the 20th Century. The house was converted into a year-round residence in 1924. The estate was named after Chanticleer, the estate in Thackeray’s 1855 novel The Newcomer. Since the name means rooster, there are numerous rooster motifs throughout the landscape. Mr. Rosengarten’s son Adolph, Jr. left the entire property for the enjoyment and education of the public after he died in 1990. The garden opened to the public in 1993. Visitors have called Chanticleer one of the most romantic and imaginative gardens in America.

After Lisa’s presentation, you will look forward to visiting Chanticleer’s 35-acre public garden area when it opens on April 2, 2014.

From the Co-Presidents

Dear Members,

My tendency is to hibernate in snowy and cold weather, but on an extremely cold January evening, I ventured out. Along with other branch members, I attended the Girl Rising film and discussion. The film tells the remarkable stories of 9 girls from developing countries, who overcame obstacles and the role education played in their lives. Throughout the film, statistics emphasize the difference education makes in a girl's life. For example, "A girl with an extra year of education can earn 20% more as an adult" (The World Bank 2011). I'm glad I ventured out; the inspirational stories of the young girls warmed my heart. For a short synopsis of Girl Rising, see the official trailer: <http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=BJsvkIXhYaE>.

February did not get any warmer, and we crossed our fingers that February branch activities would not have to be canceled. It worked! We were able to hold our board meeting and Membership Program! Our members are resilient and in spite of power outages, many were able to attend to hear Carolyn Comitta's presentation on women in politics. Carolyn, branch member and West Chester Mayor, shared reflections about her journey to public office, the number of women in government, and collaborations with West Chester University. Carolyn also touched on the importance of educating girls and how education can benefit them, their families, and the economy. Thanks, Carolyn, for engaging us in an interesting and inspiring talk.

Along with the delicious food, another highlight of the February Brunch was the celebration of Mary Pinkney's 100th Birthday. Kay Philipps provided a beautiful cake and members serenaded Mary with a chorus of "Happy Birthday to You". We are all inspired by Mary's accomplishments, and it was wonderful to celebrate her birthday together.

March is Women's History Month and AAUW celebrated last year with stories in 4 categories: "Women in Combat", "Women in STEM", "Women on Screen", and "Women and the Wage Gap". You can read these interesting stories at: <http://www.aauw.org/2013/03/01/celebrating-womens-history-month/>. You may also be interested in reading Half the Sky - Turning Oppression into Opportunity for Women Worldwide by Nicholas Kristof and Sheryl WuDunn. Although the stories are often difficult to read, they are inspiring and reiterate the premise that if girls receive education and other assistance, lives can be transformed. (AAUW website has a resource guide and other information pertaining to Half the Sky.)

Spring is in the air, and there are several annual events that we look forward to each year. March brings the Annual GETT event for girls and March is Membership Month (MMM) followed by the Philadelphia Global Water Initiative (PGWI) Conference in April. Please be sure to read about these activities on our website (<http://wccc-pa.aauw.net/>) and in the newsletter. Also, it's not too soon to mark your calendar for the Annual Meeting and Banquet in May.

We hope to see you in March. The March program is sure to cure the winter blues – Chanticleer Gardens with Lisa Roper. See you then.

Sincerely,
Sandi Kwisz & Dorothea LaVigne

Legislation and Public Policy (LAPP) By Ann Duerr

Spring Into Action!

Senate Bill 75, which will improve and better define human trafficking laws to protect victims and prosecute offenders, was unanimously passed by the Pennsylvania Senate in December. The bill now is awaiting consideration before the House Judiciary Committee. Write and/or call your Representative to support this bill. Go to www.senatordinniman.com to find a section on human trafficking that will provide updates on the bill's status, alerts for advocacy, and a link to all the House and Senate addresses. Tell the President to act on equal pay. Go to our branch website, wccc-pa.aauw.net, and become a 2 Minute Activist. In the State of the Union address, President Obama pledged to sign an executive order raising the minimum pay rate for federal contractors. He should also take steps to make pay for woman and their families more equal, too. Urge the President to ban retaliation against employees who ask about wage practices or share personal salary information by starting with companies that do business with the federal government.

Jean Goerth reminds us about the LWVCC Civil Liberties Committee Meetings on the 4th Thursday of every month, 10:00 am to 12:00 pm, Room 234 in the West Chester Borough Building at Gay and Adams Streets in West Chester. Members and guests are invited to attend any LWVCC event. The Committee is partnering with LWV Concord-Carlisle in Massachusetts to prepare a power point presentation against the Supreme Court's 2008 Citizens United decision which overturned over a hundred years of legislation and Supreme Court precedent that banned corporate money in our elections.

We invite all members to contribute, comment, and/or suggest ideas of interest to Mary Dorsey- Bunnell (Co-Chair), Mimi Jones, Linda Lang, Jean Speiser, and Peggy Staarman.

GETT 2014 – March 15th

By Mary Smith, GETT Committee member and AAUW Liaison

Girls Exploring Tomorrow's Technology (GETT) is scheduled for March 15th, 2014. The GETT program began in Chester County in 2001 as a response to the underrepresentation of young women in the computer and information technology fields.

GETT, a volunteer-driven SEPA regional project hosted by Innovative Action Technology Group (ITAG), has expanded its scope, introducing the universe of technological and Science, Technology, Engineering and Math (STEM) careers to girls. GETT is an exciting and educational workforce development project designed for Southeast PA girls in grades 6 through 12 and for their parents, teachers, and counselors to learn about careers in these dynamic fields.

Contact Mary Smith, at 484-924-9320 or pangea49@comcast.net to volunteer.

PETT/AAUW sponsors Chester County Library's Community Day Mini Maker Fair!

The Mini Maker Fair will be held on Saturday, May 17, 2014 at the Chester County Library in Exton. The fair will showcase all kinds of incredible projects. Our branch, along with PETT, will host a "Make Your Own Straw Rocket and Launch" table. We will supply the materials and will need volunteers for the day to help with this venture. You need not be technically gifted to help.

The Mini Maker Fair is a one-day, family-friendly event celebrating arts, crafts, engineering, food, music, science and technology projects, and the Do-It-Yourself (DIY) mindset. We are excited to be a part of this event to showcase AAUW and PETT to the Chester County Community.

Perhaps many of you remember that AAUW West Chester-Chester County became a collaborator with PGWI in January 2010. This followed the November 14, 2009 "Water Conference" here in West Chester, PA that was sponsored by the Chester County League of Women Voters and our AAUW Branch. (For further background information, go to our AAUW website wccc-pa.aauw.net and click on the February, March, and May 2013 Newsletters.) This year's conference will feature a diverse gathering of informed leaders thinking on a global level about how to tackle some of the biggest worldwide water and sanitation crisis challenges. The conference will build on the success of last year's conference on gender and water. Do join Ann Duerr and me (Yvonne Peiffer) for this interesting, worthwhile conference. If potable water and sanitation occur, women also can help move education, women's rights, and other UN Millennium Development Goals forward. That's a worthy goal for all people everywhere.
