

STEM Related Websites for Girls, Their Parents and Educators

<http://ngcproject.org/index.cfm> The National Girls Collaborative Project has information about programs around the country for girls interested in science.

<http://www.techbridgegirls.org/RoleModels/tabid/113/Default.aspx> Role models for girls

<http://www.umbc.edu/cwit/video.html> Center for Women & Information Technology

<http://www.girlzone.com> Webzine: chats, reviews, recipes, the works

<http://www.newmoon.org> Girl-edited, girl-run magazine

<http://aauw.org> American Association of University Women

- http://www.aauw.org/files/2013/04/Wage-Gap-in-selected-STEM-occupations_2011.pdf
- <http://wccc-pa.aauw.net/> West Chester-Chester County Branch American Association of University Women
- <http://www.aauwgirlsstemcenter.org> Website run through a Community Action Grant from the AAUW National called PETT (Parent-Educators Exploring Tomorrow's Technology) in conjunction with the West Chester-Chester County Branch

<http://www.awsem.org/> Advocates for Women in Science, Engineering and mathematics

<http://girlstech.douglass.rutgers.edu> Douglass Project at Rutgers University

<http://www.plugged-in.org> girl's science network

<http://www.awis.org> Association of Women in Science, there is a local chapter

<http://www.sciencenewsforkids.org> cool science news and games to play

<http://www.chemheritage.org/classroom/class.html> Classroom resources from the Chemical Heritage Foundations

<http://www.scigirls.org> PBS kids science series just for girls!

<http://www.girlsinstem.org/> Girls Start's programs address the nation's STEM crisis by building STEM skills.

<http://www.ncrw.org/taxonomy/term/175> a network of leading university and community based research, policy, and advocacy centers with a growing global reach dedicated to advancing rights and opportunities for women and girls.

<http://www.whitehouse.gov/photos-and-video/video/2012/04/24/girls-stem-new-generation-women-and-science> Girls in STEM: A New Generation of Women and Science www.swepweb.com SWEP is a national non-profit professional association of women involved or interested in environmental law, science, business, and policy.

<http://itagpa.org/programs/gett/> Girls Exploring Tomorrow's Technology (GETT) is an initiative of the Innovative Technology Action Group (ITAG) and is driven by the volunteer efforts of numerous public, private and educational organizations, along with public and private investments. GETT began in Chester County, Pennsylvania in 2001 as a response to the under-representation of young women in the computer and information technology fields.

Mary A Smith, PETT Project Director 2014 <http://www.aauwgirlsstemcenter.org>